Colourful candidates in Kinmount

Thursday evening in Kinmount wasn't without its colourful moments.

The all-candidates meeting featured tempers, name calling and a near expulsion.

Candidate John Tremel took offense at not being asked to respond to a question. His protests prompted moderator Clayton Cameron to order Tremel to settle down or leave. The meeting was temporarily adjourned and Cameron was about to escort the offender to the door when cooler heads prevailed. Tremel later rejoined the panel.

Brad Bradamore added some colour of a different sort, breaking up the seriousness of the occasion by interjecting some comic relief that seemed to be appreciated by the crowd. "You're lucky. I'm still young, and fresh and clean blood," he said, responding to a question from the audience. "I'll fix it for you."

Liberal candidate Sharon McCrae took the opportunity to lash out at the Tory ad campaign hinting that she and her party supports legislation that would allow spousal benefits for same-sex couples. She vehemently denied any support of such legislation.

Council applies for infrastructure funds

The Anson, Hindon and Minden Council has agreed to apply for $656,000 in federal assistance under the infrastructure program. The resolution endorsing the application was made at the March 10 meeting.

According to an announcement made at the time, council believes the municipal share of the funding, $328,000 can be found, "...with little or no increase in the general mill rate." The total value of the projects being proposed under the program is $984,000.

Among the projects approved under this plan, in the order of priority set by the council, were:

- | | |
|--|-----------|
| • Office expansion and retro-fit | $424,000 |
| • River bank restoration | $170,000 |
| • Upgrades to the sanitary sewer system and water system | $110,000 |
| • Replace major culverts in the road system | $60,000 |
| • Reconstruction of the Bobcaygeon Road | $200,000 |
| • Tennis court rehabilitation | $20,000 |

According to the council, the impact of this work will be felt this year and continue into 1995.

Local taxpayers could be asked for $45 each to support county government

Unless severe cuts are made, County taxpayers will see another $45 added to their tax bills.

The Haliburton County Board of Education and County Council are each struggling to bring down their 1994 budgets under the watchful eye of the Taxpayers' Coalition.

The school board is looking at a preliminary budget that represents a 3.9 per cent increase in taxes. This increase, if approved, would mean an average increase of about $20.

County Council opened its budget deliberations looking at a 30 per cent hike. Last week councillors pared this down to 19 per cent and then held a meeting to seek public input.

An 18.7 per cent increase in the county levy would mean an average tax increase of about $25.

The school board is now in the process of weighing the impact of further cuts to its budget. The board's administrative committee presented a list of possible cuts to the management committee last Tuesday, which trustees will consider before final passage of the budget.

After trimming more than 11 per cent out of its budget, county council will be hard pressed to find room for further cuts. In fact, councillors may be adding to its expenses in order to further subsidize the Chamber of Commerce.

Council has budgeted $50,420 for the chamber, which matches last year's grant. The chamber, however, is asking for $89,000.

At the close of last Wednesday's public meeting, the chamber made its pitch to council. Warden Jim McMahon said he was impressed with the presentation and the active manner with which the chamber has been promoting the county.

Council, however, was not prepared to immediately deal with this request for an increased grant. McMahon said it will be addressed further on March 16, prior to the final review and passage of the budget.

Education and county taxes are over and above whatever levies are set by the individual municipalities. In Minden, this increase is expected to be minimal.

No clear winner at Kinmount

by Jerry Grozelle

All six of the candidates for this week's Victoria-Haliburton by-election were on hand at the Kinmount Community Centre on March 10 to express their views on how the affairs of the riding should be conducted.

Was there a clear winner of the debate? It is difficult to say, although it is doubtful that those who attended the meeting with a basic idea of who they would vote for had their minds changed.

The meeting was arranged by the Kinmount Civil Action Committee, with Somerville councillor Clayton Cameron as the moderator for the evening.

Each candidate was given five minutes to get his or her message across followed by rebuttals and questions prepared by the civic action committee and members of the audience.

Hodgson talks jobs

PC candidate Chris Hodgson was the first to speak. He said that jobs are the key to economic recovery.

"That's the only way we're going to get the economy back in shape and be able to afford a quality health care system, quality education and the law enforcement and government services that we expect to be provided."

Hodgson said the message he is hearing from small businesses throughout the riding is aptly summed up by a bowling alley owner who said: "Get government out of my face with regulations and off my back with taxes and I'll create some jobs — I'll be able to afford to employ people."

Hodgson said the last 10 years in opposition has been a learning experience for the provincial PC party.

"We've gone back to the people with a series of public meetings and asked them what's important," he said. "From these discussions we've released a booklet for new directions for the province in areas like justice, the economy and education. Common sense ideas that came from the people."

Hodgson said that through this by-election the voters have the opportunity to send a clear message to the NDP government.

"Are we happy with what's gone on with this government or do we need real change?" he questioned. "We can send that message. We can send the message that hard working people should be rewarded."

"We need to create real jobs. You don't create real jobs by increasing taxes."

Hodgson pointed out that he has been criticized for spending Haliburton County's reserves while he was Warden of the County. He rebutted that criticism by saying the county took advantage of even better funding last year than what is being offered now.

"Instead of 66 cent dollars for 33 cent dollars, we took advantage 90 cent dollars for 10 cent dollars," he countered.

He added that part of the county reserves were used to keep the tax burden from increasing.

Hodgson said the NDP government introduced legislation that would allow spousal benefits for same-sex couples. He added that Liberal leader Lyn McLeod stated it was the priority of her party to support such legislation.

Hodgson says he is opposed to such legislation on the basis that it "would add two per cent to the cost benefits of private individuals right across the province at a time when we have record unemployment and we want to reduce the payroll burden."

"It's not an issue about fairness or human rights," Hodgson said. "It's an issue about costs of doing business in this province. You've got too many taxes in this province and you don't reduce them by turning around and saying yes to this group and yes to that group. You've got to have priorities."

3.9% School board weighs cost of cuts

Haliburton's education budget is down to a 3.9 per cent increase and trustees are now taking a hard look at the potential consequences of further cuts.

The school board's management committee met last Tuesday to take another run through the figures and consider what might be spared in order to

Administration offers input on budget cuts

The preliminary budget increase for the Haliburton County Board of Education is $636,000, which would represent a 3.9 per cent tax increase. The board asked its administrators to identify potential areas for further cuts and to list them in order of priority. The following are the options presented by the administrative committee.

Proposed Reductions:

- Reduce Maintenance $50,000

This includes emergency and planned maintenance of the schools. It may still be possible to do some of the planned maintenance with the help of federal/provincial infrastructure grants.
- Reduce one custodian $30,000

The preliminary budget includes two additional custodians for the expansion at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. Even with this cut, there is one additional custodian
- In-county transportation $15,000

This includes bussing of students to places such as the arena for skating or to visit other schools.
- Reduce photocopy costs $10,000

In order to achieve this savings, the schools would have to put a limit on the number of copies that staff would be allowed. This could be done through a card system or by limiting the paper supply to staff.
- Eliminate Family Studies and Design and Technology $10,000

This cut is at the elementary level only. The savings would come from a reduced need for supplies and the purchase of services from Bancroft.
- Reduce pay for occasional teachers $16,000

This proposal calls for a $10 cut in the daily compensation for supply teachers.
- Reduce occasional teacher usage $30,000

Supply teachers would be called on only only to fill in for sickness or bereavement. Planned supply teacher days would be covered internally, likely by resource teachers, the principal or vice principal. It was noted that this is not workable in the small schools.
- Reduce Transportation $30,000

This option would require all students to walk up to one kilometre to catch a bus. The largest gain here would

- eliminate the tax increase. In order to deliver a budget with no increase, $636,000 must be cut off the top.
- The board's administration has prepared a list of options, stacked in order of priority.
- At the top of the list are items such as reduced maintenance and custodial
- be in the reduction of travel down side roads. Every kilometre of travel down a dead-end road means four extra kilometres of bussing each day. In order for this to work, it has to apply to all students, including those in Junior Kindergarten.
- Reduce professional development $10,000

The budget for this is now $18,000.
- Reduce .5 custodian $15,000

This reduction would bring the board very close to the limit on its collective agreement with staff.
- Eliminate out-of-county bussing $5,000

This includes field trips but not travel for sports teams.
- Reduce computer initiative $50,000

This represents half the budget for this initiative.
- Reduce four educational assistants $40,000

Special education programs would suffer and teachers would have to cope with disruption in the classrooms.
- Reduce road-based technology $36,000

The budget for this new program at the high school is $100,000.
- Cut .7 teacher, Gooderham $14,000
- Eliminate infrastructure program $105,000

This, when coupled with earlier cuts, would eliminate all planned maintenance. It would also mean the board would lose out on the potential for grants from the federal and provincial governments.
- Eliminate computer initiative $50,000
- Eliminate broad-based technology $64,000
- Eliminate extra-curricular travel $20,000

This would eliminate the bussing of sports teams.
- Eliminate the late bus $6,000

Students who choose to participate in extra-curricular activities after school would have to arrange their own transportation home.
- Reduce 1.5 teachers $30,000

This would bring the total cut in teaching staff to 5.2.

services. These are items the administrators believe will have the least impact on education.

At the bottom of the list are program cuts, elimination of bussing for extra-curricular programs and cuts in staff.

Some trustees questioned the order of priorities, which was established by Education Director Brad Saunders, Superintendent of Schools Dale Robinson and Business Administrator Jim Bradley. In particular, Dysart Trustee Wayne Wood wondered why support for extra-curricular activities was at the bottom of the list.

"The rank ordering we've placed on these can be debated," said Saunders, who admitted that personal values can't help but enter the picture. "We anguished, argued and got angry over this," he said. The three administrators are not in full agreement on the rank order, he said.

The list was prepared as an information item to provide guidance to the trustees, who will make the ultimate decisions.

Committee chairman Wally Bunn asked his fellow trustees to consider this information over the next few weeks and be prepared for further debate at the next meeting.

Board refuses to cut trustees

There will still be 15 trustees on the Haliburton County Board of education after this November's election.

The board voted narrowly in favour of maintaining the current complement of trustees, despite strong hints that the province wants the number cut back.

Last Tuesday's vote ends a month of mild debate on an issue that some believe is a made-for-Toronto solution to climbing education costs.

The idea to cut trustees is being promoted by the ministry as a means of cutting costs. The cost savings in Haliburton, however, would be minimal, since trustees make only $6,000 a year.

Debate on this issue reached the board table twice in the past month. And during each discussion, the arguments were the same — minor financial savings versus full representation for all parts of the county.

"It's important that every municipality has representation," Glamorgan Trustee Craig Petit said in defence of the resolution.

Lutterworth Trustee Cheryl Murdoch has been on the board for 16 years and she says the workload has continued to climb. She said this is a small school board and it is "lean on the administrative end." She warned that cut-backs in trustees will ultimately lead to the need for more administrative employees. "In one to two or three years we'll be hiring someone to pick up the slack."

Dysart trustee Len Salvatori, however, said the $6,000 salaries represent a significant amount to this board. Arguing in favour of cuts, he said, "Six thousand dollars is as relevant to our board as the $40,000 (salaries are) in Toronto."

Tuesday's debate came just moments after a management committee meeting where trustees wrestled with the consequences of various cuts to the 1994 education budget. The preliminary budget shows a 3.9 per cent increase in taxes and all of the cuts proposed will have a direct impact on the quality of education in the schools.

"When I look at the budget and compare," said Minden Trustee Wendy Ladurantaye, "I'd rather have school staff than trustees." Still, she said representation is critical. "I'm torn."

In order to alter the number of trustees on the board, a motion must receive support from three quarters of the trustees. The motion to maintain the status quo was carried by a vote of 10 to 3. Voting against the resolution were trustees Salvatori, Wayne Wood and Lloyd Griffith.

Once that was settled, the board moved on to address the issue of trustee distribution. In an attempt to ensure that Sherbourne Township would continue to have a trustee, a motion was tabled to declare that township a "low population municipality."

Distribution of trustees is loosely based on population, and the clerks from the three largest municipalities in the county are assigned the task of determining how this should be divided.

Although Sherbourne Township has a relatively low population, it generates significant tax revenues because of the municipality's high assessment. The resolution was an effort to recognize this and ensure that the clerks would not eliminate the township's right to one trustee.

Some trustees, however, speculated that this could result in the loss of trustees in other parts of the county. When it became evident that there would be no agreement on this resolution, the board decided to give the education director the authority to identify whichever municipalities he deems necessary to ensure the distribution remains unchanged.

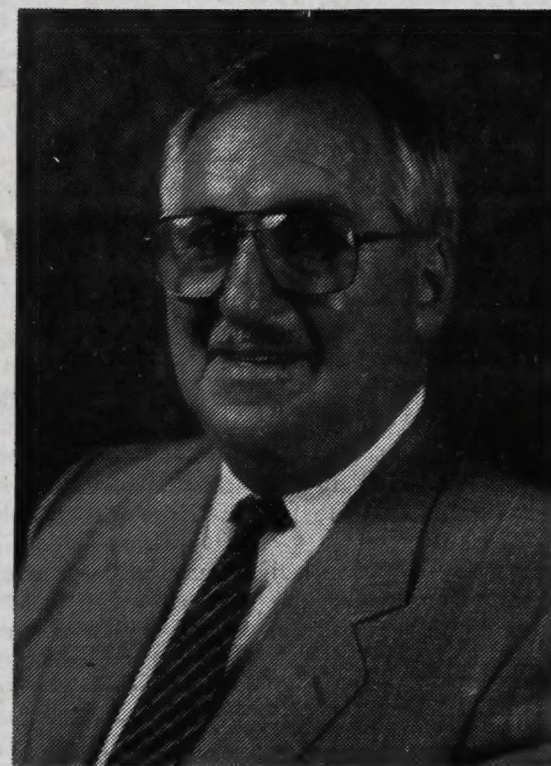

Trustee distribution

The Haliburton County Board of Education currently hosts 15 trustees, which represent nine of the county's 10 municipalities. The board wants to keep it this way:

A candid talk about funeral prearrangement with Gordon A. Monk.

Gordon A. Monk

"We want to help our community in any way we can. That's why we provide a place for grieving and grief recovery. We have the opportunity to take life's most chaotic moments and help restore serenity to broken lives."

"But we want families to avoid all this if possible. Our funeral prearrangement program is here to make a difficult time easier for families. In fact, it was started by requests from many of the people we serve. People who had experienced making last-minute arrangements and didn't want their family to go through the same.

"To prearrange, all that's necessary is a written record of your wishes which we keep on file as a free service. Or you have the option to prepay for services and merchandise—thus easing financial burdens as well as emotional ones."

What the candidates said in Kinmount

McCrae peeved about PC ads

Sharon McCrae, who is running under the Liberal banner, said the main issue of importance to Victoria and Haliburton Counties is the job creation strategy.

McCrae said that the tourist industry has to be supported with the same kind of marketing strategies from the provincial government as industries such as Chrysler and General Motors.

"One of the other things we're going to have to do if we are going to encourage people to come into our communities is to make them feel comfortable that when their industries come in, and when their ideas come in for job creation that their environment is a comfortable one — that the tax burden is nil.

"The community that I'm coming from now has had no tax increases for a number of years and yet we have been able to implement programs, reduce taxes and maintain services," she said. "Besides holding the line on taxes, we've got to make sure that the workforce is here and we've got to have a good education system."

McCrae says she's opposed to the NDP labour laws.

In her closing remarks, McCrae slammed the PCs for ads alleging that she supports spousal benefits for same-sex couples.

"I will not, I have not and I could not support that legislation the way it was intended," she stated emphatically.

Field boasts track record

NDP candidate Art Field says he stands firmly on the track record of his party, citing examples of jobs that have been created in the riding since the NDP took power in 1990.

"The New Democrats know that the government is responsible to get people back to work and to protect people through tough times," he said.

Field said that 175 jobs have been created in the riding through the JobsOntario program building clean water projects in Haliburton, Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls and Omeme.

He also said that the NDP is supporting tourism in the area through grants for the creation of snowmobile and hiking trails in Haliburton County.

The JobsOntario Homes program that has given the green light to the construction of 40 non-profit housing units in Kinmount, among others, was credited to his government's job creation initiatives.

Field told the audience that both the Liberals and Conservatives have said they would scrap the JobsOntario Program.

The social contract initiatives that were instituted by the NDP government required some tough decisions, according to Field, who added, "but the alternatives were even worse."

Contrary to some of the others who said that the government should let the private sector create jobs, Field says:

"I believe that the government needs to play an active roll in getting people back to work."

Tremel's big on bartering

John Tremel, a resident of Nepean, Ontario, is running as an independent, whose entire platform revolves around the barter system.

"I must admit I don't have a job strategy," Tremel said. "I have a job program that really works."

Tremel, who is an electrical engineer, was referring to a computer program which has been developed to simplify the barter system into a usable local format whereby goods and services could be traded. He says that by using the barter system there would be no need to borrow, which would eliminate interest payments.

Tremel spent half of his allotted five minutes reciting a poem that explained his concept of the barter system.

Sounding at times like a TV

Evangelist preaching the perils of hellfire and damnation, Tremel condemned the traditional parties, telling the audience that they have proven their policies are unworkable.

Tremel concluded by saying that a radical change was needed to bring the economy into line and that he was willing to provide that radical change.

Candidates in Minden Monday for final debate

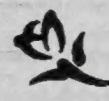

Haliburton County voters will have one final opportunity to hear the platforms of all six candidates in this provincial by-election when they arrive in Minden this Monday for a forum in the Hyland Crest Auditorium.

Over the past few weeks, the level of tension displayed at the various forums has been climbing — a clear indication that the candidates feel this is a very close race.

With only 96 hours left before the ballots are counted, we can expect a lively debate on tonight.

Monday's forum is being put on by the Haliburton County Real Estate Board in co-operation with The Times.

The forum begins at 7 p.m. in the auditorium.

What the candidates said in Kinmount

Hawkrigg opposes taxation

Representing the Libertarian party, Ron Hawkrigg said: "We're one of those alternate choices."

Hawkrigg said that what the Libertarians stand for, basically, is individual rights.

"We believe that the greatest violation of individual rights is taxes. This is the greatest inhibition to the growth of our economy. Small businesses will never open up as long as we keep increasing taxes."

Hawkrigg says the only jobs the other parties will create are civil service jobs, which will be a further escalation of the taxpayers' burden.

The Libertarian candidate said the government is spending two and a half times its annual budget.

"If you ran your budget that way — if you were two and a half years' wages behind, would you be in good shape? I don't think so," he said.

He said the government should take the money it has and look after the important things first, such as health care and education.

"Forget all the special interest groups, forget all your committees, forget all your studies, forget the wages at $30-million a year for MPPs. Let's show everybody else you can take some Rae Days.

"If they did these things without prejudice and went back to what they were originally mandated to do, they'd go a long way toward correcting our problems."

Bradamore offers more pie

Kinmount resident Brad Bradamore says he was prompted to run as an independent because he felt there wasn't a viable alternative. He takes the attitude that if something is to be done right, he'll have to do it himself.

He pointed out that he is "known" throughout the riding, having worked in several municipalities.

Bradamore said he has established some goals. "There's approximately 800 municipalities in the Province of Ontario and I'd like to set up an industrial park in each municipality. The province could loan the money to each municipality so they could set up an industrial park and as they sell the chunks off, they could pay the mortgage back to the province."

Bradamore says he'd like to set up environmental committees in Victoria and Haliburton Counties so they can deal with environmental issues locally.

"Every project that you go to do to try and expand the area and make it grow is stopped dead in its tracks by the Ministry of the Environment and it's seized the country right up.

"I want to show them (at Queen's Park) that I'm level-headed. We've got to get down there and we've got to say we want a piece of the pie and we want a big slice. The squeaky wheel gets all the grease and I'm tellin' you I'll squeak for you."

Responding to Leon Wright's question regarding the decrease in municipal say in local matters, Bradamore responded: "I find it real awkward to answer this, Leon, 'cause you were on council when you gave that power away, weren't you? But, anyway, you're lucky. I'm young and fresh and clean blood and I'm telling you, I'm willing to fix it for you."

Shared responsibility

Shhh!

That noise you hear is the sound of hundreds of sharpeners grinding away on ever-shortening pencils stubs. The people holding those pencils are the elected officials and their support staff who are trying to make the system function with fewer resources.

Not only are these local administrators faced with reduced support from the senior levels of government, (although it could be argued the federal infrastructure program represents a new, albeit temporary, source of funds), but they must also rely increasingly on a fragile local economy that could suffer further stagnation by any major tax bite.

In some of the jurisdictions, the elected officials have turned to the people who put them in office, seeking guidance in pre-budget open meetings. As we have seen, suggestions from the sublime to the ridiculous are given serious consideration as those who will have the final say search for any way out of their dilemma.

We don't ask for pity for these people. After all this is the primary reason they stood for office and why we elected them, to spend tax dollars wisely. But, we do believe they need our understanding, assistance and encouragement as they slash their way to that tiny light at the end of the tunnel. This is not the time to hound our elected representatives for being unable to provide the impossible. Rather, now is the time to demonstrate what is meant by the term community; a sense of shared responsibility for the welfare of all.

Government has conflicting interest on pro-alcohol ads

Editor,

An ad you ran last week, co-sponsored by the NDP government's Women's Directorate, insisted that alcohol does not cause domestic violence.

If you or I had said this we would have merely been engaging in a game of chicken-or-the-egg.

When this is said by people who control the provincial government, we are looking at conflict of interest of the worst kind. Their vested interest in the business of retailing alcohol and taxing it digs the moral high ground from under their very feet.

To follow the NDP logic, if alcohol is not bad, then it is good. "Good", as in "casinos are good" and in "if it feels good, do it"?

Rural Ontario no place for JK

The following letter is addressed to Education Minister David Cooke

Re: Junior Kindergarten.

I cannot believe the Ministry of Education can be so single-minded as to force the implementation of such a program that amounts to nothing more than glorified daycare. Living and working in a large urban centre must render you ignorant to the other areas of the province. Well, let me enlighten you.

While I concede that Junior Kindergarten is a good idea in principle, and probably works in the big cities and towns, the feasibility does not stretch to rural Ontario. The government has to realize that what may work for some may not work for all. Our school board has asked for a delay of implementation of this program to 1996. Personally, I would prefer not having it at all. Let those school boards that already have or want to have a Junior Kindergarten program have one, and those who do not be allowed to do without. We have been able to get along fine without one so far.

In Haliburton County, approximately 95 per cent of the student population rides a bus to school. Some students spend up to 1.5 hours on a school bus each way. I really do not think a child three or four years old is capable of holding his own against a child 11 or 12 years of age. How is a bus driver supposed to watch out for these little children while driving safely? I really have to wonder how many MPPs have children under the age of five years. Would you want your child travelling to school for an hour on a bus, basically unsupervised? I think not.

And speaking of daycare, what will become of the people who look after children in their homes and those who run daycare centres? Do you not think that the loss of income to these people will have an impact on them? Not only will their income levels go down, their property taxes will undoubtedly go up to pay for this new program.

My child will be of age to start Junior Kindergarten in 1996. While I understand that enrolment is to be voluntary, I

Mail gets slower

Editor,

Canada Post Corporation in an internal news bulletin dated Feb. 15, informed all of its employees that it is adjusting its mail operations to eliminate weekend mail processing.

The Peterborough Post Office, which services your area, has told its employees that the elimination of weekend mail processing was to take effect the weekend of March 5 and 6.

This means that any mail sent on Fridays after your postal facility's deadline will not leave your Post Office until Monday. Mail leaving town will not be processed in mechanized plants until Tuesday.

The Canadian Union of Postal Workers is opposed to any deterioration of Postal Services and urges you to contact your local Member of Parliament and local Post Office to ensure that your mail receives an efficient and timely service.

Editor,

I was very surprised to hear of Lynn McLeod's visit to Haliburton to help her Liberal candidate for the upcoming by-election.

Did she think that we would forget what she and her Liberal government did to Haliburton County four years ago, when as Minister of Natural Resources, she refused to transfer G.W. Martin's Crown timber rights to Robert Bury and Company, a Montreal-based business, a willing buyer. In effect, this decision shut down the largest employer in Haliburton County, eliminating 400 jobs in the surrounding area.

Now, she and her Liberals talk about jobs for Haliburton County. I think not!

The following was published in the Bancroft Times on June 11, 1990:

McLeod says "It would have meant taking wood away from existing mills which might have affected jobs at those operations." For this reason she is calling for a study to look at the overall demand for wood in the area and available supply. McLeod says she "hopes the study will be completed within the year, the Crown timber rights formerly held by G.W. Martin and sought by Robert Bury will not be relocated until the study is completed."

I have never seen or heard of this study, nor can I find evidence of a study being started. I do know that the timber from G.W. Martin's timber allotment was cut and trucked to McRay's Lumber Co. in Whitney and to Murry Lumber Co. in Madawaska, (Sean Conway's riding of Renfrew North) within that same year.

No, Lynn McLeod and Sean Conway and your Liberal party, we have not forgotten. We know where your priorities are and it is not in Haliburton County. On the 17th of March, we will remember.

Powerlink shows pride in youths

Editor

On Friday, March 4, there was an event held at the Minden arena called Powerlink '94.

This event involved more than 140 people from across Haliburton County. It was hosted by Highlife Youth Group from Minden Bible Church and featured a great Christian band named The Dustkickers.

This event was generously supported by many members and business in the Minden area. This reflected a pride and unity from Christians and non-Christians alike for a cause that concerns us all; the youth of Haliburton County.

Special thanks to the late Norma Barron, Epsilon Satellite, Dollo's IGA, Campbells Florists, B.J. Pizza and Jon Aggett and family.

Malingering @ * ## flaunts his vocabulary

Words are the most powerful drug used by mankind.

Rudyard Kipling

I have always wanted to write a book that ended with the word mayonnaise.

Richard Brautigan.

What a wonderful thing is the simple word, written or spoken. Mountains don't have them. Neither do sunsets or hurricanes or falcons or cheetahs. Words are ours alone, we two-legged, nearly hairless bipeds. We missed out on fangs and talons and wings and muscle mass, but we got, by thunder, the gift of words. An ocean of syllables and consonants to mix and match at will.

And mix and match we do. My hernia-threatening Merriam Webster lists more than a half a million entries, and the experts tell me that's just a little over half the total number of words in the language.

And that's just the English language. There are about 9,000 other languages and dialects around the world.

Words, words, wonderful words. "Googol" -- now there's a nifty word. You know what a googol is?

A googol is a word for a number so huge it's virtually useless. Write down the number 1. Now write 100 zeroes after it. That's a googol.

There are oodles of words that don't get their due. How about duff? Any woodsman knows that one -- it's the decaying material you find on the forest floor.

Dottle? Ask a pipesmoker. He (or she) will tell you dottle is the residual gunk that's left in the bottom of the pipe bowl after it goes out. And how about / - that slash that separates words and numbers in fractions like 1/2 or 1/4?

Well, that's called a solidus. Some prefer separatrix or virgule.

How do I know all this off the top of my head? Are you kidding/serious? I looked it up.

And speaking of fractions,

Words, glorious words. Black's got a googol of 'em to make your septum twitch

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

do you know what an eighth note is called? A quaver. And a sixteenth note is a semi-quaver.

Want to guess what a sixty-fourth note is called?

A hemidemisemiquaver.

Trust me, I looked that up too.

Then there's the bad words. You see them in cartoons from time to time. The roadrunner outfoxes Wile E. Coyote by decoying him into a freight train and Wile E. picks himself up, dusts himself off and the thought balloon over his frazzled head says something like "When I get my paws on that @##% varmint...!"

That's what cartoonists call a maledicta balloon. And they have names for every off-colour squiggle that appears in them. Names like gawlix, nittles, jarns and quimp.

That blur of feet when the roadrunner takes off? Those are called blurgits. The sweat drops on Wile E.'s brow are plewds. The dust cloud the roadrunner leaves behind? That's a briffit.

Words, glorious words. The spike that some candlesticks sport to hold the candle is known as a pricket. The steel tip of an umbrella? A ferrule. The part of a shoe or boot that goes over the arch of the foot: the vamp.

Even a simple mainsail on a boat contains such mysteries as a leach, a reef cringle, a clew, a luff zipper and a tell-tale window. An ordinary suburban bungalow roof can feature purlins, gussets, soffits and fascia.

Actually you don't have to go beyond your own personal boundaries to find little-known -- and marvellous -- words at work. That dimple between the bottom of your nose and your upper lip is your philtrum. The isthmus of the flesh that separates your nostrils is your septum.

Your body is a symphony of uncelebrated syllables from your pinkie finger (minimus) down to your hallux (big toe).

Ah yes, and we haven't even touched upon the metacarpophalangeal creases in your hands or the tragus of your ears, but I'm past my deadline and I see the editor looming. He's got plewd practically jumping off his forehead and if I'm reading his lips properly he's just called me a malingering @*##.

As Dorothy Parker might say, excuse my briffit.

Natural values developed through appreciation of surrounding beauty

Editor,

Everywhere in the natural world we meet contrasts. Colours, patterns, textures and moods are constantly changing. When people leave the busy work-a-day world, and come into the Highlands, perhaps they are already seeking contrasts. Most of the sounds, smells and visual panoramas that greet us are quite different from the messages of gloom and doom of the television, radio and printed word.

In Haliburton County, we have the opportunity to see sparkling lakes and flowing rivers, instead of littered streets. We can stop and listen to a bird's song instead of traffic or engines. We enjoy the aroma of cedar, spruce and pine instead of motorized exhausts.

But do we take this lesson into our centres? Do we try to blend these natural contrasts into our cultural world? A new partnership can be formed. Opposites can create an excellent relationship. When children learn to see beauty in the forest, they will not throw down a candy wrapper. Growing in this direction as adults they can not throw a beer can, cigarette butt or empty motor oil can. An artistic eye becomes an ecological eye.

Come join us for an environmental action workshop on Thursday, March 24 at 7:30 p.m. at the Haliburton Museum, Glebe Park, outside Haliburton village. Share your environmental ideas and lifestyle changes with others in a relaxed atmosphere.

JK fosters academic imbalance

think it is safe to say that the child starting school at age five without having attended Junior Kindergarten first will not be at the same level academically as the child who did attend Junior Kindergarten. The ministry will then no doubt adjust its standards for all grades once Junior Kindergarten is implemented. Consequently, it is possible for a child to be "behind" other children once they reach Grade 1 and through all grades thereafter.

This can be quite a problem when you are teaching a class of 25 to 30 students.

What about the areas of the province that do not already have the facilities to accommodate these new classes of children? Is the province going to grant these boards the necessary funding to build additional classrooms? I somehow doubt it. As I understand it, not all of the schools in our county have the space to accommodate more children. Does this mean that some of our schools will have Junior Kindergarten and some will not?

While we do not presently have an elected Member of Provincial Parliament (a by-election is set for March 17), we did elect Dennis Drainville during the last provincial election as a member of your NDP government. It's high time the government appreciated that fact and did a better job of serving all the people who elected them to power.

School board needs fewer trustees

Editor

May I ask why the Haliburton County Board of Education ever had 15 trustees when a county the size of Peterborough only had 16.

Peterborough has dropped theirs to 12 to save the taxpayers $30,000. Their salary was $7,500.

I never noticed in the paper what our trustees are paid. Surely they can accomplish as much as they do in Peterborough. I don't know who Lloyd Griffith talked to, who is satisfied as it is. The ones I speak to are not satisfied with this and think 10 trustees are plenty. They think Haliburton should be compared to other counties, and no one is in favour of Junior Kindergarten being pushed down our throats.

Many years ago Dysart was in financial trouble and was helped out by the province. Now it is the county and it is time for a tax revolt. Who can afford a 30 per cent increase on their taxes? I can't. The one thing we are all involved with is tax increases.

No one needs to criticize former governments. The county level of government here is ridiculous. We are the poorest county in Ontario. We have the highest rate of people on UIC, the lowest average wage, the most people on welfare. You spend accordingly and stop wanting. People come into Minden from every part of the county to work, while many Minden residents are on UIC. Everyone wants a piece of the action in Minden and they say we don't co-operate. What do they want from us? You tell me.

Provincial championship in sight

by Jerry Grozelle

When it comes to all-Ontario playdowns, Minden hasn't had many hockey teams to brag about in recent years.

But that may be changing.

The bantam A Monarchs have advanced to the all-Ontario semifinals by eliminating the Burk's Falls squad in three straight over the weekend of March 4, 5 and 6.

The Monarchs played three games in three days, starting in Burk's Falls on the Friday night.

The opening game of the best-of-five series saw Minden's Justin Rowden earn the shutout as the Monarchs

Bantam A Monarchs advance to semi-finals with three straight wins over Burk's Falls blanked Burk's Falls 4-0.

Jeff Wray scored what proved to be the game-winner with 3:02 left in the first period. Marty Dettman and Dennis Woods assisted.

That goal sparked a Minden scoring spree that saw the Monarchs add two more in just over a minute and a half for a 3-0 lead going into the second.

Rob Camelon notched the second marker on an unassisted effort and Curtis Fielding made it 3-0, from Tom Bagshaw and Daniel Howell.

Dettman added the fourth marker to Minden's tally three and a half minutes into the second to end the game's scoring.

The only thing the Monarchs lost over the weekend was the coin toss that would have given Burk's Falls the home ice advantage. But, as it turned out, the Minden boys didn't need home ice to get the job done.

Game two was back in Minden on Saturday.

Minden took a 2-0 lead in the first period. Burk's Falls came to life in the second, cutting the Minden lead to 2-1.

Two quick goals padded the Minden lead to 4-1 but the visitors kept chipping away and at the end of the second the score was 5-3 in favour of the Monarchs.

When the final buzzer sounded, the Monarchs were ahead 6-4.

Dave Raback scored the first goal of the game at the 6:05 mark of the opening frame, unassisted. Bagshaw made it 2-0 with some help from Fielding and Raback with 1:09 left in the period.

The Burk's Falls boys got their first goal of the series three and a half minutes into the second period. A minute and eight seconds later, Woods bulged the twine with Minden's third marker. Dettman and Wray assisted.

Thirty-four seconds after that, Wray scored, from Woods and Dettman.

Burk's Falls replied with two in a row a couple of minutes apart to scratch its way to within striking distance at 4-3. But Raback gave the Monarchs a two-goal lead going into the third, converting a pass from Wray with 2:16 remaining in the middle frame. It was his second goal of the game.

Wray netted his second of the game early in the third, from Darren Mills and Donald Todd for a 6-3 Minden lead.

Burk's Falls got the last goal of the game with 6:38 remaining in the third but the Monarchs shut the opposition down for the rest of the game to preserve the 6-4 win.

With two wins under their belts the Monarchs went back to Burk's Falls with a sweep on their minds.

Minden jumped to a 3-0 lead by the end of the first period of Sunday afternoon's game. Wray, Fielding and Woods were the snipers. Chris Eskelin set up the first two and Wray assisted on the third.

Burk's Falls charged back in the second, cutting the Minden lead to 3-2 before the period was three minutes old.

Midway through the second, Wray scored, from Woods and Eskelin and it was 4-2 for Minden.

Late in the period, Burk's Falls narrowed the gap to 4-3 and that's how the middle frame ended.

The third period was scoreless for the first eleven and a half minutes but the last three and a half minutes saw four goals added to the scoreboard.

Bagshaw pulled the trigger on a set-up from Raback for a 5-3 Minden advantage. But with 1:49 left, Burk's Falls chopped it to 5-4. Twenty-six seconds later Dettman scored, from Woods and it was 6-4.

With seven seconds showing on the clock, Burk's Falls netted the last goal of the game to end it at 6-5.

"It was a great series," said Minden coach Dan Mills. "It was one of the quickest."

Ingram scores five goals in KDD win over Hartwick

by Jerry Grozelle

Home Hardware moved back into first place in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League round robin playoff standings by thumping The Times 11-1 last Monday night.

Sid Stamp Fuels dropped to second, a point behind Home, with a 5-2 loss to Westside Jug City in the evening's second game.

The late game saw Kountry Double D defeat Hartwick Construction 10-6.

HOME 11, TIMES 1

Home led 6-1 at the half and added five unanswered goals in the second period.

Brian Shaw paced the assault with four goals and a pair of assists. Boomer Stamp helped the cause with two goals and six assists while Barry Shaw scored twice and assisted on two more. Doug Allison had a goal and four assists, with Dave Dollo and Richie Mills adding a goal and two helpers apiece. Peter Allore and Tom Miscoe contributed one assist each to the winning cause.

Doug Schell was the lone Times sharpshooter, with assists going to Clark Craig and Paul Walker.

WESTSIDE 5, STAMP 2

Sid Stamp Fuels kept the game close until the second half with the score at 3-2. But Westside scored the last two goals of the game for the 5-2 win.

Eldon Bull racked up three points for the winners with a goal and two assists. Tom Haley and Daryl Ward scored a goal and added one assist each. Gary Nelson and Dave Pettes were the other snipers for Westside with one goal apiece.

Alec Little and Glen Hall scored one each for the Stamp team, with Charlie Teljeur and Gary Harrison assisting.

KDD 10, HARTWICK 6

A total of 16 goals were scored in the night's late game and when the ice crystals had settled, Kountry Double D had won by a 10-6 score.

At the end of the first half the score was tied at 3-3. Hartwick went ahead 6-4 in the second but KDD shut the opposition down while adding six in a row for the win.

Ivan Ingram led the attack for KDD, scoring five goals (four of them in the second half) and assisting on two more. Jeff Howe notched two goals and five assists. Steve Stewart and John Fedeski netted one goal apiece and helped set up two others. Doug Aldworth had a goal and one assist and Jason Stamp picked up one assist.

Kim Colliss scored twice for Hartwick. Scott Hamilton scored once and helped set up three others. Ron May, Chad Connelly and Andy Scoling each had a goal and one assist. Dan Kunkel had two assists and John Ballantyne picked up one helper.

Tonight (Monday) is the last night of round robin playoff action. Next Monday (March 21) the championship and consolation playoffs will begin. The top two teams from the round robin will meet for the league championship. The second and third place teams will battle it out for the consolation.

The two teams that finish at the bottom of the standings will be eliminated.

Incoming! Keswick netminder Steve White blocks a shot and makes a grab for the rebound during the late stages of last Tuesday's bantam B playoff game in Minden. The host Monarchs defeated Keswick 5-1 in the series opener. After two weekend games, the two teams will play game four in Minden tomorrow (Tuesday) evening.

Keswick bows to Monarchs in first game of Tri-County finals

by Jerry Grozelle

Game one of the Tri-County bantam B finals was won in convincing style by the Minden Monarchs. The Monarchs played host to Keswick on March 8, winning the first game of the best-of-seven championship series 5-0.

Less than a minute remained in the first period when George Godfrey got loose and put one past Keswick goalie Steve White. That unassisted marker, with 40 seconds left in the opening frame turned out to be the game winner as Minden netminder Shane Flood kept the opposition off the scoreboard to earn the shutout.

Sean Irvine made it 2-0 at the 4:41 mark of the second on a set-up from Ian Clemments.

Two and a half minutes later Clemments and Irvine teamed up again, this time with Clemments pulling the trigger.

A minute and a half into the third it was Adam Carpenter to Jason Kasepchuk to Irvine, who netted his second of the game for a 4-0 Minden lead. Then, Carpenter added insult to injury, scoring Minden's fifth goal with 2:40 left in the game. Jamie Henderson assisted.

Depending on the outcome of two weekend games, the Monarchs could wrap the championship up tomorrow night (Tuesday) on home ice.

Keswick will be back in Minden for game four at 8:00 p.m.

If a fifth or sixth game is necessary, Keswick will be the host for both. Game five is slated for Saturday, March 19 at 6:30 p.m. and game six has been scheduled for Sunday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m.

Novice Bs close in last two

by Jerry Grozelle

In spite of some excellent play in their last two games of Tri-County hockey playoffs, the Minden novice B Monarchs didn't get a win.

The latest game, on March 8, saw the Monarchs end up on the short end of a heartbreaking 2-1 score against the visiting Wilberforce team.

"The kids played another excellent game," said coach Kelly Young. "They passed well and played very strong defensively.

"But, it just didn't bounce our way. I couldn't ask the kids to play any better."

Minden took the lead in that game a minute and a half into the first period when David Petch put one past Wilberforce goalie Billy Hunter.

Wilberforce notched the equalizer with 3:16 left in the period. Ben DeCarlo was the marksman, from Nick Coty.

The game winner was scored by DeCarlo near the middle of the third on a set-up from Matthew Manary.

VATER'S HAT TRICK NOT ENOUGH

The previous game, in Beaverton on March 3 was a different story but with a similar outcome.

Not one who is known for blaming refereeing as a factor in a loss, Young was critical of the officials in Beaverton, saying that they seemed to look the other way on several occasions when obvious infractions had occurred. The game sheet shows that no penalties were called against the home team.

Minden took two penalties, both of which resulted in power play goals for Beaverton.

Minden got off to a great start. Colin Vater scored a natural hat trick to give the Monarchs a 3-0 lead by the middle of the second period. The first two were unassisted while Petch assisted on the third.

Beaverton scored five consecutive goals to rob the Monarchs of the win.

"The referees basically let Beaverton beat us into the ice," Young said. "The kids played well and should have won."

Let's End Ontario's Lost Decade

After sharing ten years of leadership in Ontario, the Liberals and NDP have a lot to show for themselves:

- The highest taxes in North America.
- A provincial debt that has tripled.
- Record unemployment rates.

It's time to put an end to this decade of lost opportunity, lost jobs, and lost hope.

Chris Hodgson is a local businessman rooted in the values of Victoria-Haliburton. His realistic plans for job creation and economic recovery will bring back what others have lost.

On March 17, vote for real change. Vote for real jobs.

MNR declares July 8, 9 & 10 licence-free fishing weekend

Community fishing activities encouraged

If you are a once-a-year angler, you might want to plan your annual fishing excursion for the weekend of July 8, 9 and 10.

That's when of Natural Resources Minister Howard Hampton has declared a licence-free fishing weekend.

"This is an exciting opportunity for all Ontarians," Hampton said. "For that weekend only, residents of Ontario can fish without a licence."

This is the first year the MNR has offered a licence-free fishing weekend since the Ontario Resident Angling Licence was introduced in the mid 1980s.

The Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters proposed the idea as a way of drawing the public's attention to the value of the fisheries resource.

The free weekend will begin at 12:01 a.m. on July 8 and end at midnight on Sunday, July 10. Anglers who participate in the weekend will be required to honour the conservation licence limits.

The ministry has been working with a Steering Committee comprised of members of the OFAH, representatives from the tourism and tackle industries, Ministry of Culture, Recreation and Tourism and the Association of Conservation Authorities of Ontario.

"During the next few months the Steering Committee will be looking to reach different audiences — especially families and young people — with the message that fishing is fun, enjoy it wisely," Hampton said.

The ministry is extending an invitation to the federal government to incorporate Ontario's licence-free weekend into a National Fishing Week.

"I think we'd all like to see Ontario's fishing weekend become part of a national fishing week," Hampton said. I will continue to work in that direction with the federal Department of Fisheries and Oceans."

As part of the licence-free weekend promotion, the ministry is sponsoring a "Name the Weekend" contest. The winning entry will reflect the education, conservation and fishing is fun messages the ministry wants to convey to the Ontario public during the licence-free weekend.

Community fishing activities will be encouraged. Some suggestions include: a children's or family fishing derby; seniors fishing festival; lake or stream clean-up or restoration projects; fishing fairs, with booths which focus on fish identification, catch and release, fly tying, cleaning and cooking of fish; casting and knot tying; public tours of fish hatcheries; fishing clinics — best techniques for fishing in local waters; fishing demonstrations; and provincial park interpretive programs.

Novice As whip Cannington in exhibition hockey match

An exhibition game in Cannington on March 8 saw the Minden Ontario Hydro novice A Monarchs hockey team come home with a 7-1 win.

Ben Carpenter opened the scoring, driving home the rebound of a shot by Jordan Campbell.

Evan Kernohan took a pass from Nicholas Mitchell just inside the Cannington blue line and went in to score. Justin Walker picked up an assist on that one too.

Mitchell scored the third

Minden goal, from Matt Mattsson.

Campbell notched three in a row for the natural hat trick. Assisting on those goals were Mitchell, Steve Johnson and Greg Vanderlip.

Lance Aggett rounded out the scoring for the Hydro crew. That seventh Minden goal was assisted by Mattsson.

Mark Snell played an outstanding game between the Minden pipes, turning away all but one of the home team's shots.

Ireland

Have you ever been across the sea to Ireland
To meet the folks and hear an Irish band?
They'll welcome you with a shake of their hand.
Their hospitality is something grand.

They'll take you to have some Irish stew
And, if you're very thirsty, a dram of whiskey too.
And once you've drunk the whiskey, they'll show you what to do.
You must get up and dance the jig 'til the buckle comes off your shoe.

St. Patrick is their patron Saint, the greatest ever been
And they proudly wear the flower of the Shamrock green.
Potatoes are their bread of life and the pork is very lean
And pigs, colleens, and paddies are everywhere to be seen.

Corned beef and cabbage is served on old St. Paddies Day
Along with a mug of Irish brew, so all the kinfolk say.
It helps to pass the time and sends you merrily on your way.
As it makes you feel romantic, you really want to stay.

Dark-haired and blue-eyed beauties are smiling everywhere.
You know by their actions that they're Devil-may-care.
The Irish-raised horses are shown at the world fairs
And the men that ride these horses are proud of what they wear.

These are superstitious people and always full of fun
As the leprechaun comes in at night and helps to get things done.
They must always kiss the Blarney Stone and if you listen to their tongue,
You can't miss their accent, as it really has a hum.

The banshee is an evil spirit and a bearer of bad news.
He hollers down the chimney and scares you out of your shoes.
We'll speak no more about him, as we have no need for the blues,
So always keep on smiling and always pay your dues.

QUALITY HEALTH CARE

WILL IT BE THERE WHEN WE NEED IT?

- ✗ Conservative Leader Mike Harris recently endorsed Alberta's 20% cut to provincial health care spending.
- ✗ A 20% cut in Health Care would eliminate emergency care facilities in communities like Minden.
- ✗ A 20% cut would force seniors in Victoria and Haliburton to pay User Fees and New Health Care Premiums - just when they need care most.
- ✓ Sharon McCrae and the Liberals have a plan to restore quality health care in Ontario by using existing dollars more wisely.
- ✓ Sharon McCrae will fight to ensure that access to emergency and hospital services is available in our small towns and rural communities across the riding.

Act protects mentally incapable persons

The Substitute Decision Act, which is to take effect in early 1995, protects mentally incapable people while making it easier for family members to make financial and personal care decisions for them.

The following information taken from a bulletin recently received from the office of the Attorney General will help clarify some misconceptions about the Act.

The government will not take over the property of everyone who becomes mentally incapable if there is a power of attorney, or if a spouse, partner or family member is willing and available to make decisions on the incapable person's behalf. Under the Substitute Decisions Act, the Public Guardian and Trustee is intended to be a substitute decision maker of last resort.

The new Act does not make it more difficult for family members to assume guardianship for an incapable person when there is no power of attorney. In fact, by providing a way for family members to take over guardianship without going to court, the Act makes the process easier.

A person who holds a power of attorney will not have to provide security or a management plan before making decisions on the incapable person's behalf. Those safeguards apply only to a substitute decision maker appointed after the person becomes incapable, without that person's prior approval.

If you would like further information about power of attorney, contact your nearest Information Centre.

Network addresses varied concerns

by Jerry Grozelle

Discussions were varied when members of the Northern Community Network met at the Somerville council chambers on February 24.

CO-OPERATIVE BUYING

George Simmons, Reeve of Snowdon Township suggested that the Network members could save a substantial amount of money by going together to buy such things as fire suits for their volunteer fire departments.

Simmons said that by co-operative buying, townships could have saved as much as two-thirds of the price they pay individually.

OLD MILL

It was reported that the Kinmount Civic Action Group has expressed an interest in getting something going with the old mill and the railroad station in Kinmount. It seems that Sir Sandford Fleming College may be interested in getting involved with the civic action people on this project.

HEALTH CARE

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Bern Berry formally expressed his appreciation to the Northern Network for its support regarding the Minden Hospital issue.

Kinmount may be without a doctor in April. It was pointed out that the doctor must be out of the current medical facility in Kinmount by April. To date, no alternative location has been found.

WATCHFUL NEIGHBOURS

The Neighbourhood Watch is apparently working well in Kinmount.

Somerville Reeve John Huke related a story he heard about a man in the village who was out doing some work on one of his windows. Apparently, someone thought there was a break-in in progress and before long a police car showed up to investigate.

"It (the watch) seems to be working," Huke said.

SMOOTH SAILING

Huke said he is pleased with the direction the Northern Community Network has taken. He admitted that when the idea was presented, he didn't think it would get as far or gain the support as it has.

Huke added that he is confident that he can count on the support of the other member municipalities and he is thankful for the opportunity to get to know some of the other council members from the area.

Simmons pointed out that each county is at a different speed on different projects, which offers the opportunity to learn from each other.

Galway-Cavendish Councillor Peter Franzen added that several valuable contacts have been established.

INFRASTRUCTURE BLUES

The government's infrastructure program received some bad reviews during the general discussions. It was suggested that accountants have proved that the federal government really isn't contributing as much as it would like people to believe. When the GST and income taxes are collected back from the people who are doing the work and buying the building materials, the federal government is creating more income for itself. By contrast, the municipal share that must be contributed to get the federal money doesn't have such a return.

"They are simply moving the money around, putting more people on the government payroll," one member commented. "It's not creating wealth. It's passing the buck."

TOWN HALL

The question of where to hold the next "town hall" meeting of the network was raised.

Laxton, Digby and Longford Reeve Doug Horton said that most of the big issues in Norland are already gone. He mentioned the post office, the school and the fact that Norland has never had a bank.

Horton suggested that a meeting be held in Norland in the spring, after the cottagers return. Since 65 per cent of the taxpayers in LDL are seasonal residents, he feels they should have the opportunity to participate.

EDUCATION COSTS

The skyrocketing cost of education is an ongoing concern. It was stated that education costs are out of control and the way to address those costs is not to cut the number of trustees.

"Enrollment has gone up by 10 percent in recent years, while the education budget has increased by 100 per cent," said Mark Brelsford, one of the people responsible for starting the network. "There's something wrong. Sometimes you have to instill a different attitude — change the way they think."

CREDIT UNION

On the subject of a credit union in Kinmount, it was revealed that the initial response to questionnaires sent out with tax bills and distributed through local business outlets has been disappointing.

"Local businesses are the key to the success of having a credit union in Kinmount," Huke said. "Without their support it won't fly."

A BREATH OF SPRING Scottish comedy reaches the Highlands

After much serious negotiating, Haliburton County Home Support Services was able to persuade "A Breath of Spring" to include Haliburton in their Canadian tour.

For those who are familiar with this highly entertaining group from Scotland, some of the performers need no introduction, but it will be an all new show.

Ronnie Coburn is, of course, still head-lining the troupe as the rubber-faced comedy host. Ronnie is a star personality having performed frequently on television, stage and world tours. Featured on this tour is the magnificent voice of Bill McCue, Scotland's most versatile singer, who has "topped the bill" all over Europe in opera, musicals and cabarets. On violin again this year, is the very polished Ian Powrie. Ian is firmly established as a leading proponent of Scottish music and appears on television, radio and theatre. The beautiful voice of Gillian Murray can create mental images of the highlands, be they in Scotland or Haliburton, and bring a tear to many Scottish eyes. Gillian is in constant demand in all facets of Scottish entertainment.

Ceilidh music and Scottish dance music are now more popular with the younger set in universities and cabaret clubs from Glasgow to Inverness. Jimmy Lindsay, champion of the button accordion, has been extremely busy playing in Ceilidhs, concerts and television. Heather Scott will show us her championship form in Scottish, Highland and Country Dancing. The musical director for the show is James Cosker. James has been appearing with the show all over Scotland from the Glens of Angus and over the Lothians south of Edinburgh, plus a long season at the Mitchell Theatre in Glasgow and the Gaiety Theatre in Ayr.

Plan to come and join us in a celebration of songs, capers, fun and music, and let "A Breath of Scotland" transport you from the Borders to the Highlands and islands of Scotland in this traditional Scottish evening of enjoyment.

Haliburton County Home Support Services invites you to "A Breath of Scotland" live on stage at J. D. Hodgson Elementary School on Monday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Advance tickets are available at: Haliburton County Home Support Service, Colour Your World - Haliburton, Village Court Pharmacy - Haliburton, Highland Pharmacy - Minden and Highlands Jewellery - Minden.

Advance Tickets: Adults - $12, Children 12 and under and Seniors (55+) - $6.50.

At the door: Adults - $15.00, Children 12 and under and Seniors (55+) - $7.50.

Haliburton County Home Support Services is a not for profit charitable organization that provides programs and services to seniors (55 years and older) and the physically challenged (18 years and older) in the County of Haliburton and/or hamlets of Kinmount and Dorset "to enable them to remain independent in their own homes for a longer period."

Young speakers share in spotlight

For the first time in the history of the competition, speakers from the elementary grades were included in the public speaking contest held at the Haliburton Legion Wednesday evening.

In the past, the Legion-sponsored contest only heard from students in grades four to 10. This year, however, to the delight of the audience, a group of youngsters in grades two and three were included.

The youngest speakers were every bit as accomplished as the older competitors and captured the hearts of those in the audience with their story telling.

The top speakers in the grade two and three level were first, Abbie Blythe Hagerman, second Melanie Howitt and third, Alex Sisson. All are grade three students. Also competing in this section were grade two students Janna Bowskill-Bolin, Arlen Mighton and Reuben Maughan.

Winners in the grades 4 to 6 section were, first Cole Glendinning, second Kim Varty and third, Jennifer Cattell, all grade 6 students. Also speaking were Ryan Wood and Jenny Moynes, both grade 4 students.

There was some additional excitement in the grade 7 and 8 level as two speakers tied for first place. The rules of the competition required the two to select a topic at random, and within a set time period, prepare a three to five minute speech. Both speakers did extremely well in the "speak-off", but Andrew Postlethwaite emerged the winner. Second place went to Freya Lillius. Both are grade eight students. The third place winner was grade 7 student Rebecca Bjelis. Other competing in this section included Ainsley Hoare and Mike Morrisette, both grade 7, and Mathew Burk, grade 8.

There were six speakers in the senior section. Taking top place was Bryn Gray with his speech on violence. Second place went to George Godfrey while Jessica Berry placed third. Also speaking were Donald Todd, Kevin Brezina and Greg Lewis, all grade nine students.

The first place finishers now advance to the zone competition which will be hosted by the Coboconk Legion March 27.

Wealth not measured in dollars

Having been adopted by the Eagle clan of the Haida people, I attend the annual Assembly of the Haida nation in Haida Gwaii (Queen Charlotte Islands).

At the end of the meetings, we all take part in a wonderful feast. Tables are heaped with home-made bannock, cakes and pies, along with clams, crab, herring roe, salmon and halibut caught in local waters. After eating, guests are showered with gifts and treated to songs and dances.

Here culture, history and community are rooted in the abundance of the forests and surrounding waters that define home and belonging. The Haida bring to mind a remarkable speech delivered last year before the United Nations by Anderson Mutang Urud, a Kelabit from Sarawak in Malaysia. His words were rich with ideas and insight for all of us.

While Sarawak is less than two per cent the size of Brazil, it produces almost half of the world's tropical timber. Even if the rate of logging is cut in half immediately, Mutang says all primary forest in Sarawak would be gone by the year 2000.

And as the forest is cleared, there is a domino effect: "Fish, wild animals, sago palms, rattan and medicinal plants disappear. The trees which bear the fruit which feeds the wild pigs are cut down for timber. The pigs disappear, and with them vanishes the main supply of meat for our peoples . . . trees and vines and poisonous barks are felled, and find their way into the streams, killing all the fish. Mud from the eroded lands pollutes the rivers, bringing us diseases and destroying our source of drinking water."

As in Canada, Malaysians have shown little respect for sacred burial sites of the indigenous people: "The logging companies bulldoze through them, with no regard for our feelings . . . When we complain about their destruction, they sometimes offer us a small sum of money as compensation, but this is an insult to us. How can we accept money that is traded for the bodies of our ancestors?"

There is a fundamental clash between value systems: "The government says that it is bringing us progress and development . . . For us, their so-called progress means only starvation, dependence, helplessness, the destruction of our culture and demoralization of our people."

Like British Columbia, Sarawak's forestry practices are aimed at maximizing profit with little regard to sustaining communities or conserving the forests: "The government says it is creating jobs for our people. But these jobs will disappear along with the forest. In 10 years, the jobs will be gone; and the forest which has sustained us for thousands of years will be gone with them." The real problem is that western notions of progress tear apart ways of life that support communities and families: "My father, my grandfather did not have to ask the government for jobs. They were unemployed. They lived from the land and from the forest . . . we were never hungry or in need. These company jobs take men away from their families for months at a time. They are breaking apart the vital links which have held our families and our communities together for generations. These jobs bring our people into a consumer economy for which they are not prepared.

"The Penan, the Kelabit and the other indigenous peoples view the forest as our home. When we see a thief enter our home, we try to defend what is ours." Since 1987, there have been peaceful blockades to which the government has responded by arresting and imprisoning scores of people. Mutang himself has been tried in absentia and will be arrested if he ever returns.

Mutang relates: "A high government official once told me that in order to have development, someone must make a sacrifice. I replied, why should it be us who must make this sacrifice? We have already become poor and marginalized . . . while companies get rich from our forests, we are condemned to live in poverty. Now there is nothing left for us to sacrifice except our lives."

"In our race to modernize, we must respect the ancient cultures and traditions of our indigenous peoples. We must not blindly follow that model of progress invented by European civilization. We may envy the industrialized world for its wealth; but we must not forget that this wealth was bought at a very high price. The rich world suffers from so much stress, pollution, violence, poverty and spiritual emptiness. The wealth of indigenous communities lies not in money or commodities, but in community, tradition and a sense of belonging to a special place . . . The world is rushing toward a single culture. We should pause and reflect on the beauty of diversity."

Mutang's appeal on behalf of his people is relevant here in Canada. In Haida Gwaii, the land and waters are still rich with life that gives an opportunity to define progress differently and follow a different path.

Sled dog coverage showcases Highlands

Editor,

In response to your request to comment on TSN's presentation of the Minden TechniCal Challenge sled dog derby, I would like to make the following comments:

Firstly, I felt that the presentation reached and exceeded its objectives on behalf of the sponsors, volunteers and organizers, to showcase an exciting, little-known sport. The program also highly emphasized the international participation that this sport draws.

More importantly, this presentation, through very professional editing, gave an opportunity to feature Minden and the entire community of the Haliburton Highlands during the winter months. There was no doubt in my mind, and any of those who I have talked to, that this program was a 30-minute commercial for Minden, Haliburton County, Martin Pet Foods Ltd., and the Minden Sled Dog Committee.

Seldom does the opportunity arise to reach a possible collective targeted sports audience of 90,000 nationally. The audience is our tourism market. For the dollars spent, even the big three auto makers would be envious of its cost efficiency, effective tourism advertising and sports event showcasing.

TSN's programming, like other national networks is protected by copyright. To some, it may not be known that special arrangements were made to not only use copies of this program for Haliburton tourism purposes, but also inventory nearly eight and a half hours of video-tape for use by the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce to edit its own winter tourism video for use at trade shows.

To attract national television is a milestone for Minden and the community of Haliburton County. It can only lead to further opportunities to continue through the most effective media possible, television.

As a partial sponsor, I could not be more pleased with the continuing excellent professional presentation by TSN programming. I believe that the Minden Sled Dog Derby as hosted by Jim Vanhorne was first class.

Info centre can't afford expansion

Editor

Many thanks to Marg McAfee for her letter in last Monday's Times in which she complains that the Haliburton County Information Centre offers its services in Minden only one day a week. Our aim is to offer our services in many Haliburton County centres and to increase our days in Minden. For the moment, that is not financially possible.

While Ms. McAfee's point is appreciated, much of her information is inaccurate. For her to blame Haliburton County Council is unfair to them. The Information Centre is neither financed by the County Council nor does it come under the council mandate.

The Information Centre is a non-profit organization which attempts to help seniors, the disabled and low income families in their dealings with various levels of the government. Helping them with their income tax forms is just one of those services, but obviously the most popular.

Financing is provided by donations, money raising projects such as raffles, the Ministry of Community and Social Services, the Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation, the Municipality of Dysart et al and the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

In this period of cutbacks we are working hard to maintain our services, but some cutbacks have been necessary. Therefore, we are unable at this time to afford an increase in our Minden operation. In addition, our staff and volunteers tell us that they are coping nicely with this year's crop of income tax forms and that no changes are needed.

Residents ready crafts for St. Patrick's Day

Good morning! Saturday again and this morning we played two tables of Euchre which were convened by Sue Crego. In the afternoon Glenna Beckham was here to play her beautiful piano music. Our sincere thanks.

The residents and staff of Hyland Crest were saddened by the passing of Mrs. Mary Burgess. Mary Burgess, wife of Rev. John Burgess on February 23. Our sympathy to her family and friends.

Sunday evening chapel service was conducted by Rev. Burgess with music on the organ by Lorna Roland. Thank you John and Lorna.

Monday — Edith Brittain was to Lindsay for a check up of her arm which was broken in February.

Liz had her baking program on Tuesday and lunch at noon in the auditorium for the residents who participated with baking. Tuesday chapel service was conducted by Rev. Parker. Our residents sincerely thank you.

Also on Tuesday, crafts were supervised by Margaret O'Shaughnessy. We are preparing for March 17. In the evening Pearl's daughter helped play cards.

Wednesday there were 18 residents and volunteers, as well as Doris as driver and Linda as co-pilot who went to Minden Legion for lunch. The Legion ladies thought of everything to make us com-

Everett Fearrey came in the evening and played his guitar and sang for us. Everett and some of his family came regularly a couple of years ago. It was nice to see his return.

Thursday, March 3 the ladies of the Haliburton United Church supplied a delicious tea for our tea party. Thank you to Helen Archer, Mary Packard, Marie Roberts, Linda Roberts, Beulah Tyler, Pat Cowen, Marie Letti, Charlie Tyler and Glenna Beckham on piano.

Friday afternoon the World Day of Prayer was held in the auditorium. The program was prepared by the ladies of Minden and Rev. Peter Walford-Davis was the speaker. The theme was peace among nations and individuals. Four ladies lit four candles asking for peace with God's help. The ladies of the United Church served a delicious lunch after the service and time was spent to chat with friends.

Big prizes up for grabs in Lions draw

by Maurice Boyd

The Minden & District Lions Club have put together a fund raiser that we believe will be very popular.

This draw consists of over $20,000 in prizes. There will only be 400 tickets sold. Your ticket for the draw can be paid for in two ways. First, $100 paid by May 1 will make your ticket eligible for two early bird draws, worth $500 each, as well as twelve monthly draws for two prizes. The first one for merchandise valued up to $1,200 or $1,000 in cash and the second one $500 in cash. The second way of paying for your ticket is by 12 post-dated cheques for $10 each. The post-dated cheques must be dated the first of each month to be eligible for the draw that takes place on the fourth Thursday of the month. The monthly draw will take place at the Lions Bingo. The two tickets that are drawn will go back into the drum for the remaining draws. All the proceeds from this project will go towards the Lions Hospital Fund. Your ticket for this most worthy cause can be purchased from any Minden Lion. Further information can be received by phoning 489-4083 or 286-3714.

Since the beginning of 1994 the Lions have made some significant donations. The Stanhope Fire Fighters emergency response vehicle fund is $2000 closer to reality. Hyland Crest received $2,200 towards the furniture for one of their rooms. Two wheel chairs were given to the seniors at Staunworth Court and the Terrace for the residents' use. The Minden Figure Skating Club received $100, and $400 was given to the Can-Skate Program. Several other groups received financial support.

The Lions Thursday night early bird Bingo game now goes to support our Hospital project. This does not mean we have abandoned the Minden Food Bank. We have more than $4,000 in reserve for the Food Bank and will be available whenever our help is needed.

Be sure to watch for the sale of the Luxury Draw Tickets and get in on the early bird draws. Don't forget all proceeds are in support of your hospital.

Bus policy changes

Editor:

Most parents in this county are aware that because of crowded school buses, many students are restricted from travelling on any bus other than their regular one. I wonder how many parents are aware that as of September, 1994 there will be no exceptions to this rule?

This means that your child will no longer be permitted to go directly from school to piano lessons, sports, part-time jobs, or even a baby-sitter's house if it means taking a different bus. This change in policy will create tremendous difficulties for students and their families.

Students in this county must often travel long distances between home, school, sports and other destinations and they do not have the option of using public transportation. If our school buses are over-crowded, then penalizing the students in this way will not solve the problem. Perhaps a couple more buses need to be added.

I urge all parents to consider the effect that this change in policy will have on the students of this county and to write to the school board expressing your concerns.

Sincerely,
Helen Brown,
Boshkung Lake Road.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Friday March 4 was a busy one at The Terrace. We had our weekly coffee break at 9 a.m., then cribbage at 1:30, after which everyone rushed around preparing a dish of food for the monthly pot luck. The buffet had a great variety and also a birthday cake for those celebrating this month. Entertainment followed with Al and his guitar and Frank with fiddle, mouth organ and sax playing our favourite tunes. We have a happy group here and are thankful for our visiting musicians.

A Youth Rally sponsored by Minden Bible Church was held at the arena on Friday, March 4 in conjunction with many others across Canada and the U.S. with millions of young people taking part. The local group of about 150 had games, music with the Dustkickers and a message video challenging the youth. Refreshments of pizza and pop brought the evening to a close and another get-together is being planned.

Some people on the sick list are Jack and Muriel Harrington, Wayne Taylor and Joanne Camelon. Good wishes to all of you and anyone else we missed.

Eileen and Paul Cockburn of Woodville had a nice visit with her aunt, Florence Robinson, recently.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Walter Oxtan, Walter Harrison, Bernard Strubbs, Keith Levitt, William Watson and Pauline Smart.

Kit and Ralph Schroter visited relatives in Oshawa recently.

Visitors last week with Dorothy McElwain and Audrey and Bob Vick were Wilhelmina Thomson and her grandson Scott from Ottawa.

Janice and Jack Shaw visited Lindsay last Saturday and attended the 50th birthday party of her cousin Marilyn Orr.

Weekly winners at St.

Paul's on March 7 for euchre included Iris Taylor with most lone hands, KT Parker, Verna McDonald and Hazel Austen. The draw went to Mary Colman. Please note there will be no card games on March 28, being Easter week.

Tuesday afternoon euchre winners at Minden Legion were Jean Scadden with most lone hands, Verna McDonald, Jack Chilton and Edna Trumbull.

Stanhope bridge club winners also for Tuesday included Mary Stevenson, June Branning and John Klok. There will be no games on March 15 but they will continue on March 22.

Went into Agnes Jamieson Gallery recently and saw Anticipation of Spring, art work done by pupils from the public school. Take a minute and go see this interesting display. The exhibition goes on until March 19 and the gallery is open Monday to Saturday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

A good crowd attended Gelert Centre on March 8 and enjoyed their euchre games with winners being for most lone hands, George Bartley while others included Helen Byne, Betty Hicks, Scott Thomson and Truman McNeil. The games are held at 7:30 p.m. and everyone is welcome. Next games will be held March 22.

Club 35 euchre results from March 7 included Olive Jones with the 50-50 draw, Jim Bradbury with most lone hands, Eleanor Bunker, Ivan Kernohan, Olive Jones, Norm Lee and Eleanor Bunker. The next Wheels to Meals will be March 15 at 12 noon.

Coming events called in include free skating courtesy of the Kinette Club at the arena on Tuesday March 15, Thursday March 17 and Friday, March 18 from 2-4 p.m. The Women's Institute will meet at the Library/Cultural Centre Common Room on Wednesday, March 16 at 2 p.m. Also on March 16 is the on-going Legion Trivia Night at Minden Legion at 7:30 p.m. St. Paul's Anglican Church is having Irish Stew night and Irish ballads sung by Gord Kidd on March 17 from 6 p.m. The Minden Agricultural Society will meet at the home of Joan and Bill Moore at 7:30 p.m. on March 17. The County Town Museum group will meet at the Common Room on March 23 at 10 a.m.

Winners at Minden Legion Branch 636 euchre games on March 3 included Barbara Kenneth and Marie Dennie with most lone hands, Jean Scadden and Verna McDonald with the highs, Mary Wilson, Ed Hisson, Helen Lee, Coleen Bresnahan, Jim Bradbury and Murray MacKinnon.

Hope everyone enjoys March Break with family visiting or being visited. We hope you will be careful with the youngsters as the melting season is here and there are lots of deep puddles which can be very dangerous.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIS: Frank - In loving memory of a dear Dad and Grandfather who passed away March 10, 1991. What we'd give if we could say "Hello Dad" in the same old way. To hear your voice, see your smile, To sit with you and chat awhile. So you who have a father, cherish him with care For you'll never know the heartache Till you see his vacant chair. Forever in our hearts and sadly missed by daughter Doreen, son Willie, son-in-law John and grandson Johnny.

DAVIS: In loving memory of my dear husband, Frank, who passed away March 10, 1991. As time unfolds another year Memories keep you ever near, Silent thoughts of time together Hold memories that will last forever. Sadly missed by his wife, Mae.

WARBURTON: In loving memory of my dear husband Joseph (Joe) who passed away March 14, 1988. God saw you were getting tired And a cure was not to be So He closed his arms around you And said "Come unto me". Lovingly remembered by his wife Lila.

WARBURTON: In loving memory of a dear Dad and Grandad, Joseph (Joe) who passed away March 14, 1988. A face that is haunting us ever A voice we are longing to hear, A smile we'll remember forever, While we try to forget every tear. A sad but sweet remembrance A memory fond and true And a token of affection dear And heartache Dad, for you. Never forgotten, Ross, Joan and family.
